SUPERINTENDENT OF PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS

Foreword

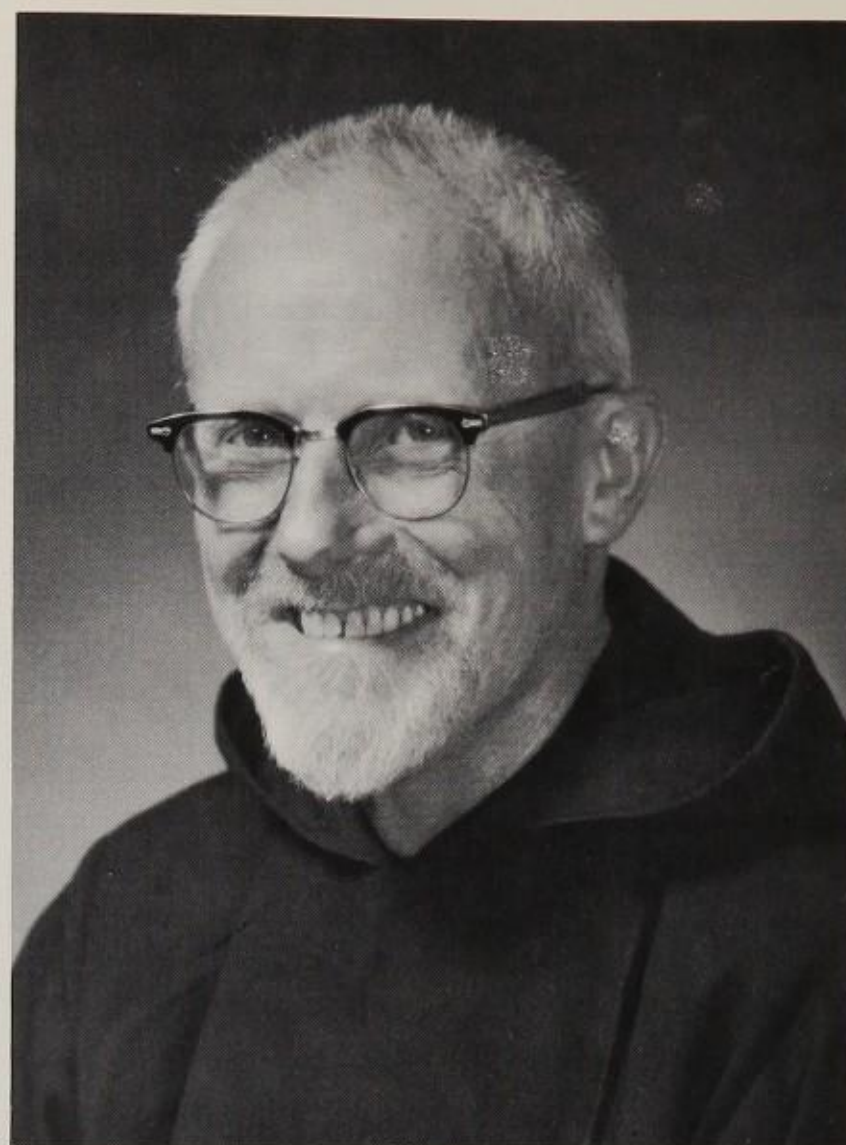

HOW can one express the feelings and ideals which have been gathered throughout the year? How is homage paid to the teams which have sweated and strained in both practice and competition to further the reputation of our school? In what way may we prove to the men of the faculty that their labors have not been in vain; that their knowledge has been passed on; that their counsel has been heeded?

This burden is placed on the shoulders of each graduating class. The year must be recorded; the victories and defeats must be logged; the success must be gauged; the lessons must remain unforgotten.

What is to be the record, the log, the gauge, and the memory? It is the work of many months; it is the essence of a multitude of ideas; it is the yearbook.

Dedication

Brother Patrick,

O.F.M. Cap.

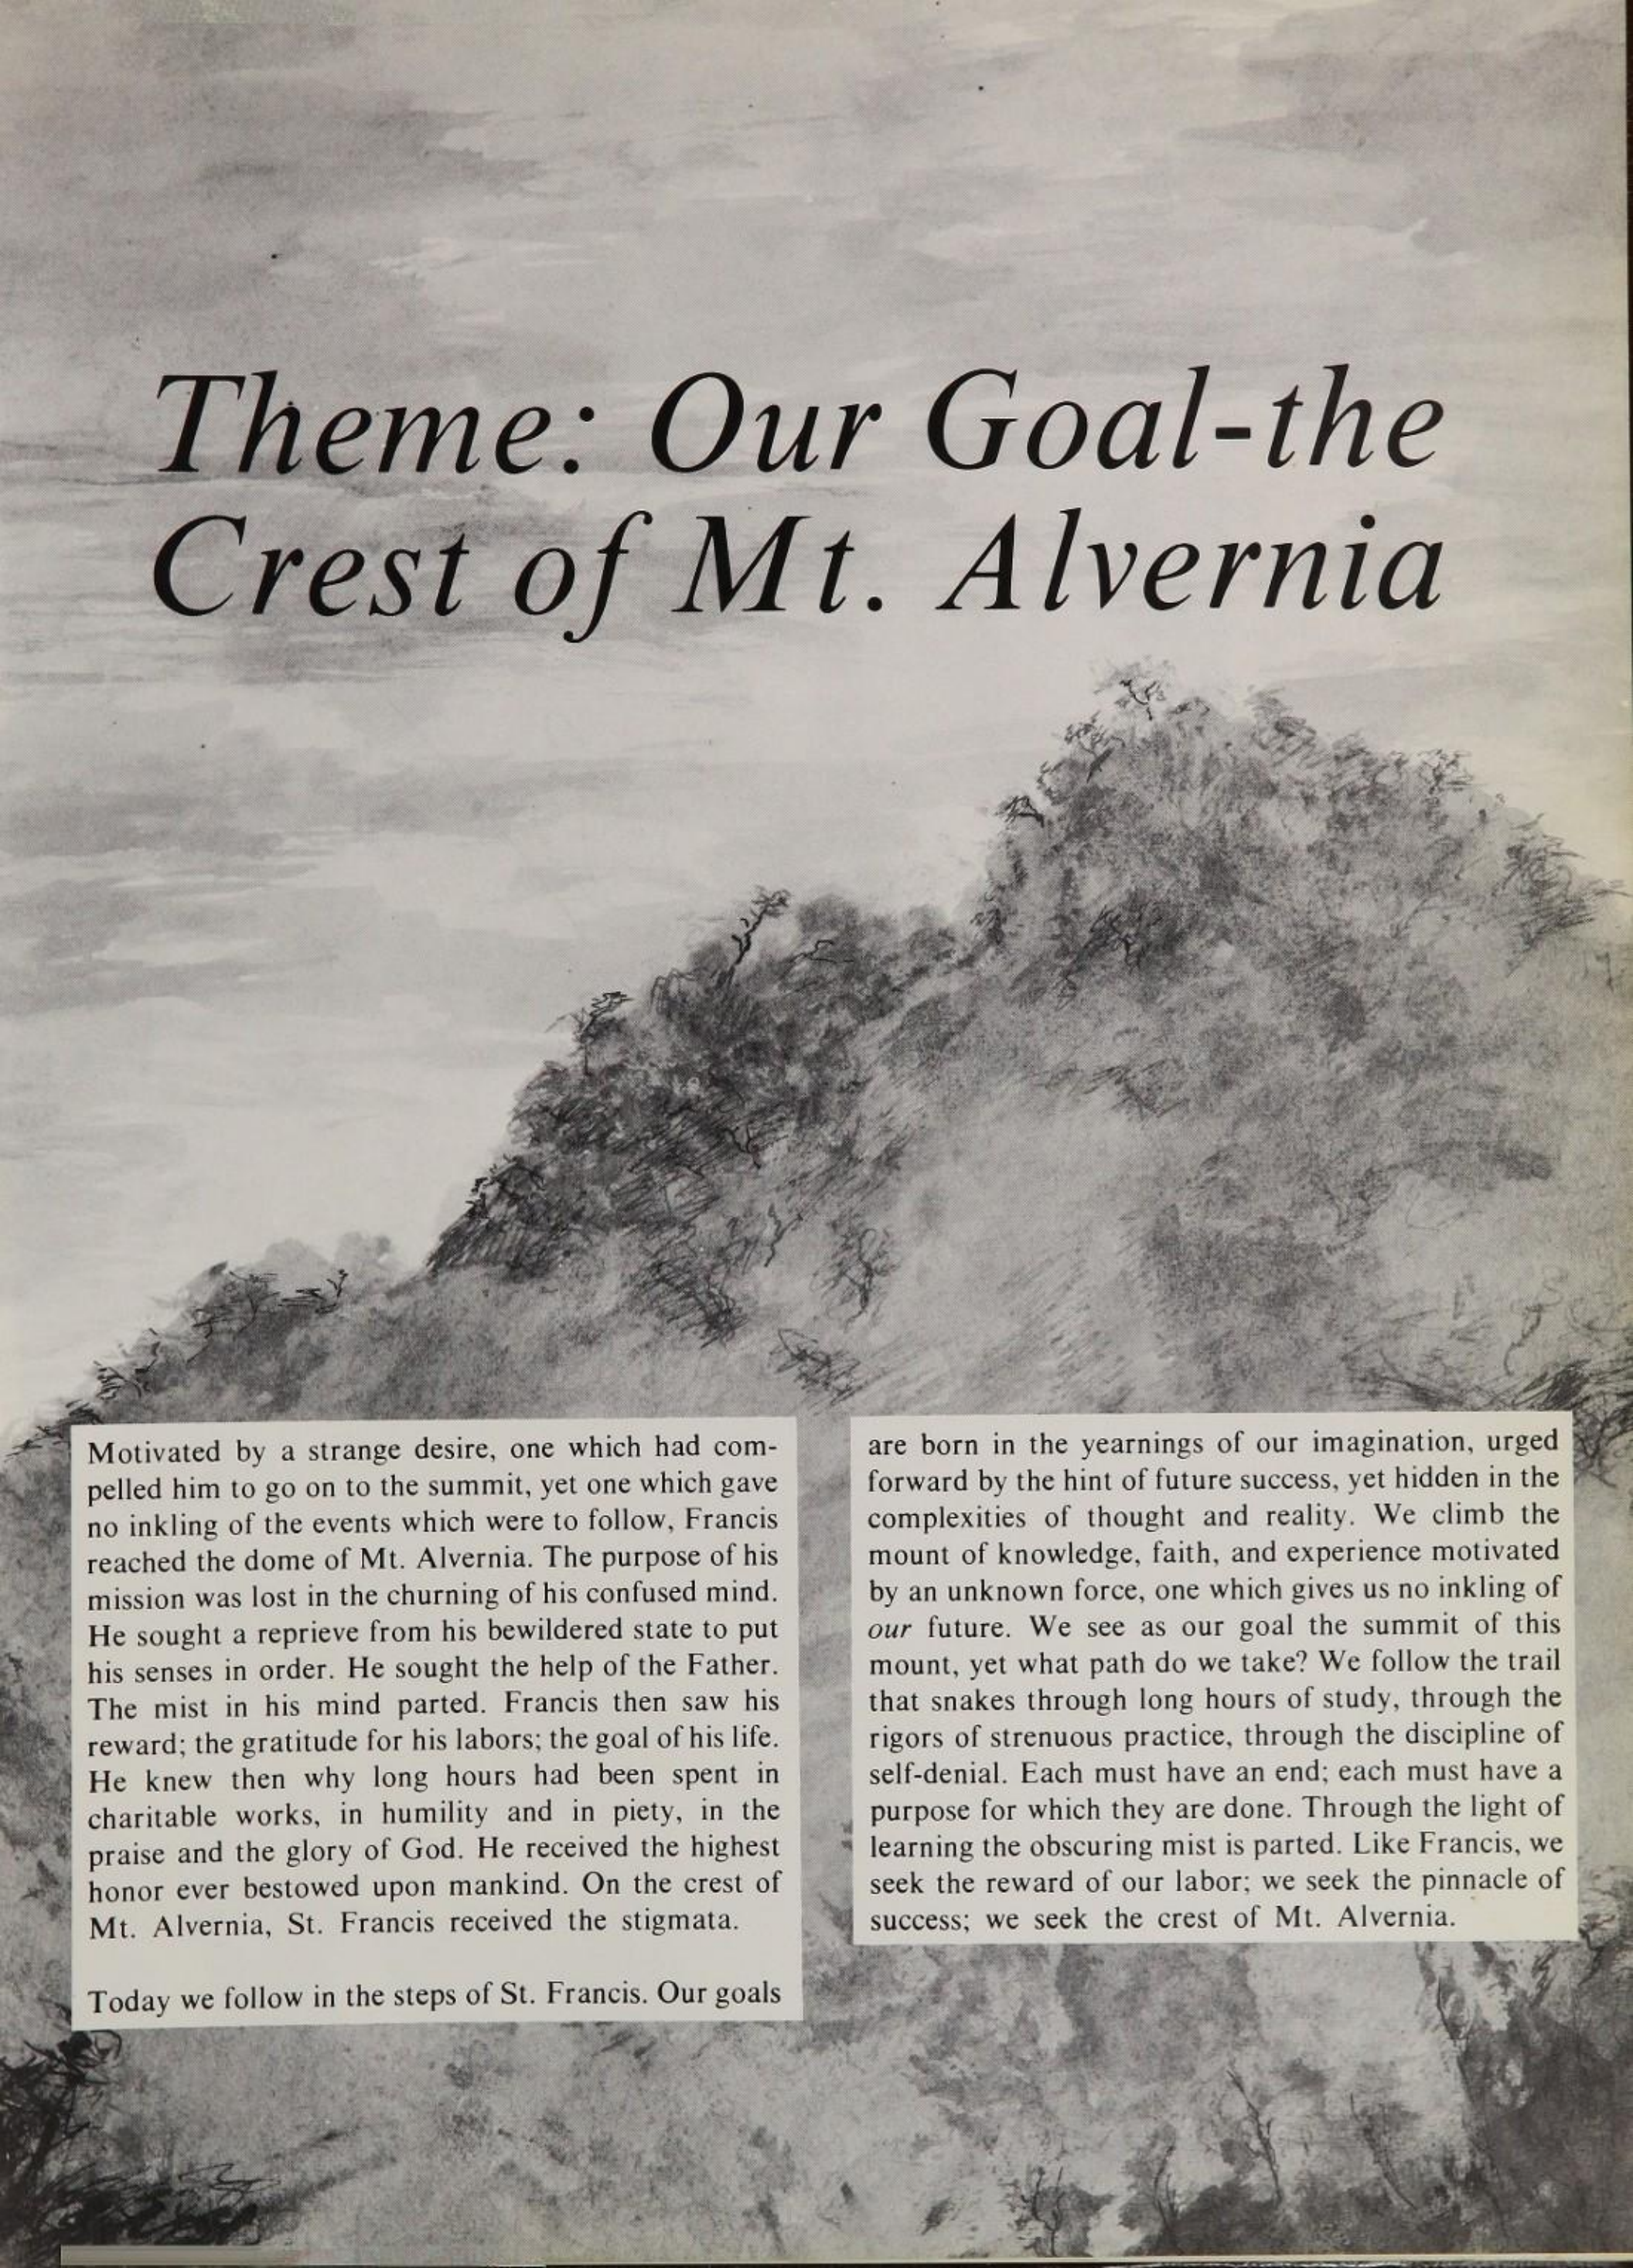

It has often been said that the little things in life are most important. It seems that they are the least appreciated, yet how can a society, or even a school, survive without the completion of certain fundamental tasks. These must be done, and, in any society, they must be done by a special person: one who can give freely yet ask nothing in return.

Br. Patrick was that special person—a person dedicated to the performance of his tasks for two decades with the quiet dignity that comes with self-sacrifice. He was a sacristan and a cook; a refectorian and a gardener; a porter and a friend. His tribute was the sight of a hillside cloaked in the green of his handiwork; the knowledge of a spotless altar praising the Father; the satisfaction felt upon having prepared and served nearly 7000 dinners in over twenty-one years; the taste and smell of cleanliness.

Yet Br. Patrick was concerned with more than inanimate objects. Many were the times after a hard workout a tired player was given the reward of a 7-Up or an apple. A glance up toward the balcony often revealed his silent figure rooting for his school and his team. If a man's value is measured by the amount of admiration and respect he has gained from others, then the man Br. Patrick is certainly of great value.

We, the graduating class of 1968, salute you, Br. Patrick, for all the good you have done for St. Francis and for us.

Theme: Our Goal-the Crest of Mt. Alvernia

Motivated by a strange desire, one which had compelled him to go on to the summit, yet one which gave no inkling of the events which were to follow, Francis reached the dome of Mt. Alvernia. The purpose of his mission was lost in the churning of his confused mind. He sought a reprieve from his bewildered state to put his senses in order. He sought the help of the Father. The mist in his mind parted. Francis then saw his reward; the gratitude for his labors; the goal of his life. He knew then why long hours had been spent in charitable works, in humility and in piety, in the praise and the glory of God. He received the highest honor ever bestowed upon mankind. On the crest of Mt. Alvernia, St. Francis received the stigmata.

Today we follow in the steps of St. Francis. Our goals are born in the yearnings of our imagination, urged forward by the hint of future success, yet hidden in the complexities of thought and reality. We climb the mount of knowledge, faith, and experience motivated by an unknown force, one which gives us no inkling of our future. We see as our goal the summit of this mount, yet what path do we take? We follow the trail that snakes through long hours of study, through the rigors of strenuous practice, through the discipline of self-denial. Each must have an end; each must have a purpose for which they are done. Through the light of learning the obscuring mist is parted. Like Francis, we seek the reward of our labor; we seek the pinnacle of success; we seek the crest of Mt. Alvernia.

Faculty

Our thoughts, our ideals, and our goals have been shaped by a select group of men. Giving wholly of themselves, the men of our faculty have repeatedly proven their desire to serve the student body as well as direct it. Their efforts have brought the name of St. Francis to the heights of its glory. Their energy has made the school grow. Our future has been placed in their hands. We are guided by their combined skills, and through them, we attain success. This is their reward; nothing else.

Seniors

St. Francis High School
Diploma of Graduation

The memories of a Senior classman are many, covering all facets of campus life. He views the future with mixed emotions, for the cloak of boyhood is being shed and the form of adulthood is emerging. He plays the important role in school as intermediary between the faculty and the student body. The trust of the underclassmen is directed toward him. The success of the year can be measured in terms of his excellence, or its failure, in his weakness.

We, the Class of 1968, realize the importance of the Senior, for we have been faced with the responsibilities of his position. The education and experience gathered at St. Francis must last us a lifetime. We have been given a gift of priceless value. We are thankful; we are confident that we will be able to repay our debt to St. Francis and to mankind.

Valedictorian—Albert Jardini

Each year the Alvernian has paid tribute to the senior who, during his four years at St. Francis, has maintained the highest scholastic average among his fellow classmates. That list has grown longer with each succeeding year and has been distinguished not only by the accomplishments those honored have achieved here at St. Francis but also by the success they have won in the professions they have pursued. This year's Honor Student is one who measures with the best of them and whose future, if diligent perseverance is the key, lies brightly ahead. A nearly straight A student, his interest have not been limited to the academic side of school life, though this has remained his main pursuit as evidenced by his life-membership in and President of the California Scholastic Federation and of the National Honor Society. A member of the Varsity Basketball team for the past two years, he also participated in track and was on the Circle K, and the Pep Club. In his senior year he served as editor of the "Knight Breeze". Unassuming by nature, his willingness to help has made him a friend of all. He has accepted his success with a humility that is characteristic of greatness. It is with pride that the Alvernian salutes as Honor Student of the Year, ALBERT JARDINI.

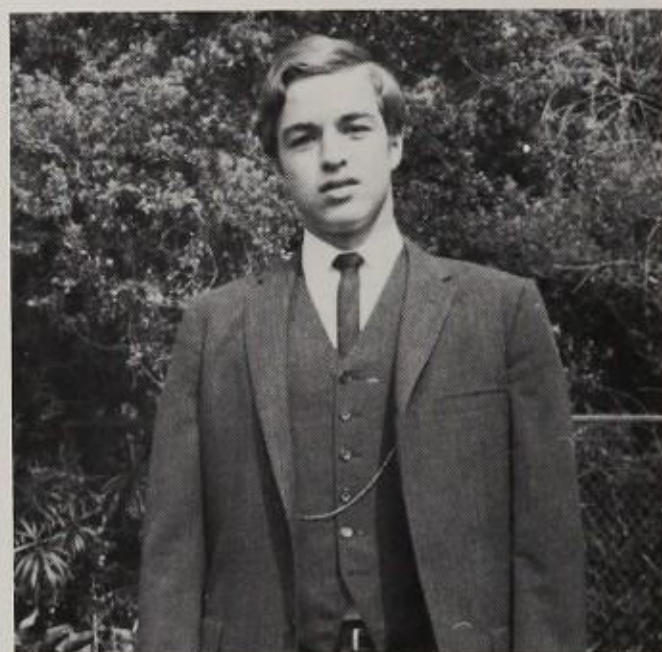

Sportsman of the Year—Jim Nuccio

The real spirit of the Golden Knights is exemplified this year in one of the most popular students on campus. Known for his unshaken loyalty to the school and his great determination to win, he carries on the great ideals of Knighthood at St. Francis High.

A four year veteran in Football, Basketball and Track, and lettering in all 3 sports at the varsity as well as at the Bee and Cee level, he was chosen team captain of all three sports in his senior year.

He excelled, not only in the field of athletics, but also in leadership, holding almost all of the Student Body offices during his four years. He is our present student body President.

We salute, as Athlete of the Year, a gentleman, a leader and an all-time competitor—JIM NUCCIO

Memories

The present senior class will take with them memories of the past four years here at S.F. We can first recall the CIF Championship in football, along with three Santa Fe League crowns. In basketball our heights were reached with two league crowns and an almost CIF title. Track stands there too with a double league crown; our baseball team has been in the top three of the league. S.F. has seen many changes in these years, such as: new classroom building, remodeling of the study hall, addition to the priests' quarters, an automated milk shack, remodeling of the office, permanent visitors' bleachers, and now in the works, new tennis courts. We witnessed many departures and additions of faculty members. Many a student remembers the thundering voice of Fr. Alphonsus at the pep rallies, the coaching of Mr. Friedman, the shouts of Coach Boldt, and let's not forget the "Man from MAB". On June eighth of this school year, the seniors will have completed their records and become part of that history, a history for future men of S.F. to remember.

Underclassmen

An important part of St. Francis is the underclassmen. Making up over eighty per cent of S.F.'s total enrollment, they form the largest student body ever to grace our campus. The underclassmen are faced with the promises of the future, and with them alone are the decisions of the years to come. They are being prepared in the best possible way, for the education and experience acquired at St. Francis can rarely be rivaled by any other school. Their necessary work may be great; yet their rewards are unlimited.

Sons of Italy

The Sons of Italy in America is an organization founded in 1929 to bring the Italian people here in America closer together and to bring them together to respect and remember their father country. This body of people is organized on the National, State, and unit level. Each is known as a lodge. Here on campus we have brought together the students who have a common heritage in Italy to form a student lodge. Maybe some day this will be officially organized. These lodges are especially noted for helping needy families in the old country.

OVERSEAS CLASSES SET BY P.C.C.

There will be three study groups in the home this coming year. The first group will be organized in the fall, the second in the winter, and the third in the spring. The groups will be organized by the P.C.C. and will be held in the home of the students. The groups will be held in the home of the students and will be held in the home of the students.

AND ORPHANAGE RECEIVES CHARITY

The orphanage will receive charity from the students. The orphanage will receive charity from the students. The orphanage will receive charity from the students.

The activities at St. Francis have meant more than just fun; they extend the pride and spirit of St. Francis with them wherever they go. This year three new organizations have been added to further this cause. With these new additions we hope that future classes will carry on the spirit left behind by preceding classes.

STUDENT BODY COUNCIL

CIRCLE K

The men of the Circle K form perhaps the most elite and necessary organization on campus. Their principle function is to enforce school ordinances, yet the scope of their duties is ever-widening. They are the leaders, and, in their hands, is the order of the school.

Pat Curran Secretary, Joe Kane Sargeant-at-arms, Fr. Lawrence Moderator, Brian Fogarty V.P.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

While the Circle K enforces the student rules, the Lettermen's Club exemplifies them. Whether in the classroom, on the field, or on the court, the members of this club have shown and continue to show those qualities which exemplify the true St. Francis Knight.

Pat Curran Secretary, Fr. Enda Moderator, Joe Kane President, Brian Fogarty V.P.

SOD-VOC

This organization, under the guidance of Father Thomas, has become our arm of charity to the needy through the annual can drive and the Mexican excursion. Holding meetings on Wednesday evenings, the Sod-Voc also discuss the many aspects of morality which influence our lives. Through their efforts we achieve a better understanding of Catholic Action.

Chris Skeeahan and Basil Treppa with Moderator Father Thomas.

JUNIOR SOD-VOC

Although young and inexperienced this years junior Sod-Voc has taken an active part in the duties of its senior counterpart. Their eagerness and competence deserves recognition and we are indeed grateful to the members of this club for the fine job they did.

Rick Bergstedt, Mark Zimmerman, and Dennis Marzonie conferring with Father Thomas.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club, under the direction of Fr. Lawrence, has focused its attention on all of the rapid advances being made in the scientific fields. The Science Fair, which gives the students the opportunity to display their scientific prowess, has been an annual success in their hands.

Fr. Lawrence Moderator, John Martin President, Basil Treppa V.P., Duffy Johansing Secretary.

DEBATE CLUB

Through lively, controversial discussions, the Debate Club has formed the voice of our school. Led by Mr. Valente, club moderator, this group is taking an ever-increasing role in campus life and thought. The logical arguments developed in their speeches will form the basis for the clear-thinking age of tomorrow.

Chris Shean President, Mr. Valente Moderator, Bob Prochnow V.P., Rob Golden Secretary.

PEP CLUB

A large portion of the success of the school year must be accredited to this group, for the spirit they generate forms the backbone of the student body. It has been said that the Pep Club, moderated by Fr. Thomas, has provided an "extra player" in tough situations through the transmission of their will to win.

John Martin and Frank Forgo Presidents, Fr. Thomas Moderator.

GLEE CLUB

The campus is alive with the sound of music as the Glee Club has finally become an organized group. Performing at the dedication of the new school buildings, the Christmas show, and the graduation, they have proven that hard work and the firm hand of Fr. Michael have paid off.

Glee Club and Fr. Michael.

SPANISH CLUB

Being a new organization, the Spanish Club, under the leadership of Mr. Galleon, aims to stimulate interest in the Spanish language and the Spanish-speaking nations.

CHESS SOCIETY

SKI CLUB

JOURNALISM CLUB

Under the leadership of Fr. Michael, the Journalism Club is responsible for the formulation of the material for our school paper, the Knight Breeze. Through their efforts, the Knight Breeze has attained a level of excellence rarely achieved by any other high school publication.

Life Members: Chris Skeehan, George Colosimo, Chris Noonan, Chris Shean, Al Jardini, Tim Curren, Mike Osbaldeston, and Will Clarke.

C S F

The California Scholarship Federation is comprised of those students whose report card grades total ten points (A's equal 3 points; B's equal 1 point). Under the leadership of Mr. Chris Valente, C.S.F. members have strived to better themselves and the name of the school.

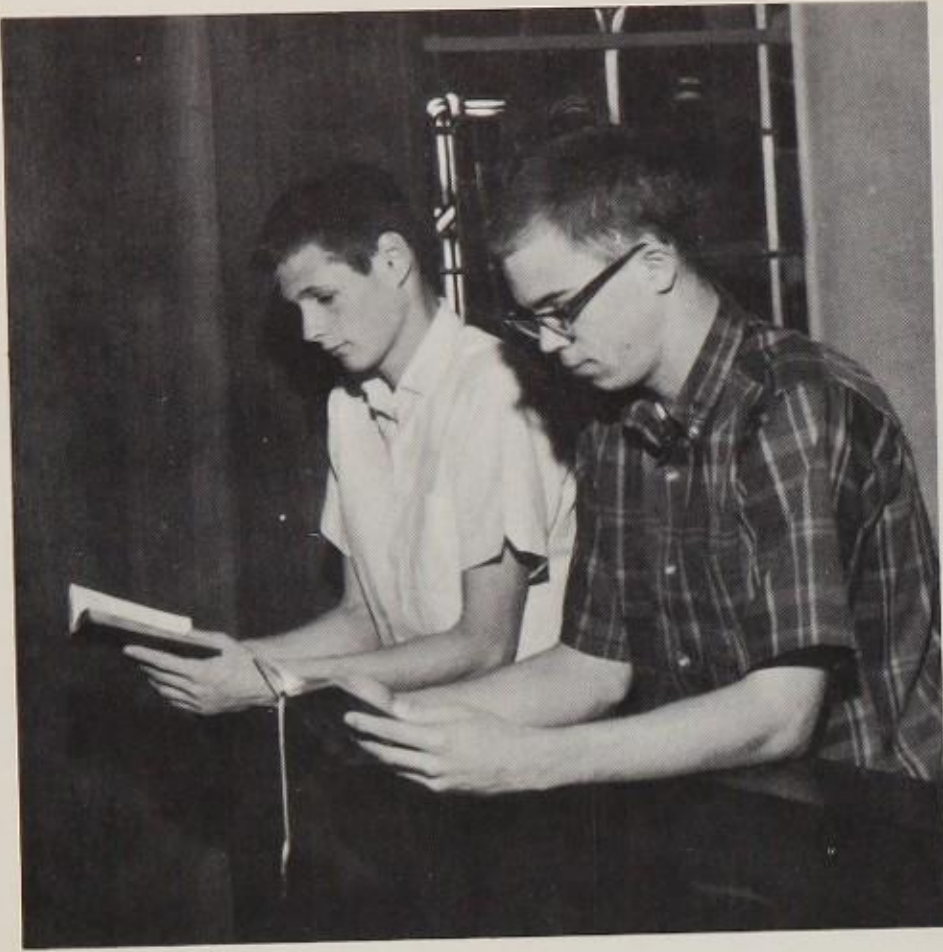

Officers: John Feeley, Andy Jardini, Moderator Mr. Chris Valente, Al Jardini, President, and Charlie Barker.

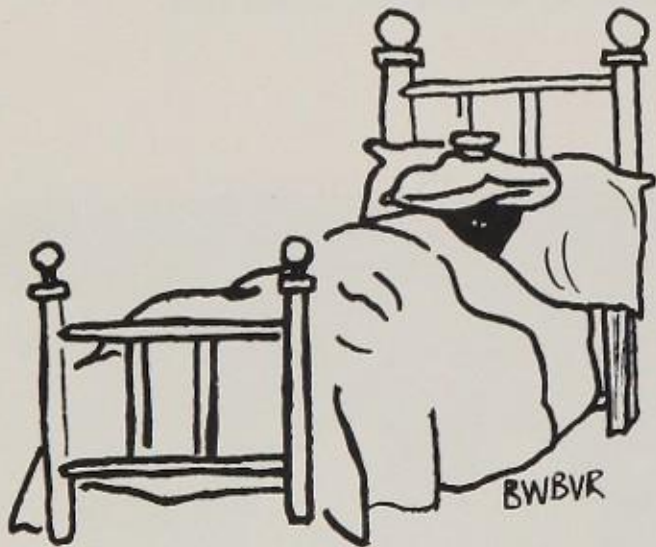

SEMINARIANS

St. Francis High School is also a minor seminary for the Capuchin Franciscan priesthood and brotherhood. Being the only Capuchin minor seminary on the Pacific Coast, it is a testing ground for those students who are interested in the Capuchin way of life.

NEWSLETTER

The St. Francis Newsletter is published to inform parents, other schools, and the press of the events occurring within the school. Basil Treppa did an outstanding job for SF this school year.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Composed of students maintaining a "B" average or better, the National Honor Society comprises yet another feather in the cap of the "intelligentia." Its aims are to increase the student's awareness of college requirements and to further the ideals of leadership, honesty, and integrity.

Chris Skeehan Vice-President, Jim Gallo President, John Nelson Secretary;
Fr. Lawrence Moderator.

Booster's Club-Mother's Guild

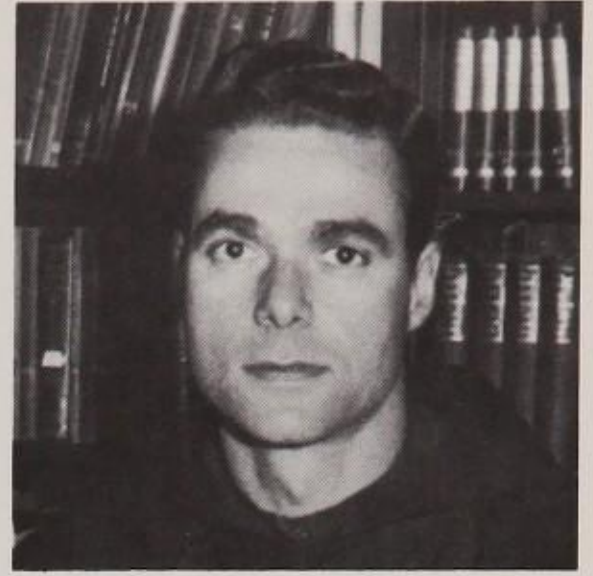

The Booster's Club and the Mother's Guild are two of the most vital organizations at St. Francis.

The Booster's Club, under the direction of President Roy Stafford, provides both moral and financial support to each team in the S.F. Athletic Program. Without them, winning would only be a dream.

The members of the Mother's Guild, under the direction of Mrs. Pat Bruce, devote their valuable time to the preparation of various projects, auctions, and luncheons at St. Francis. We, the graduating class of 1968, are deeply indebted to these two organizations for their support throughout our four years at St. Francis.

Mothers make study hall festive for banquet.

Moderator, Fr. Lawrence

Alumni Association

The past nineteen years have produced over a thousand graduates. These outstanding individuals form the basis of this association. Each year they present a deserving senior with financial aid for college. Sponsoring many reunions and dances, they greatly add to the spirit of St. Francis High.

Cross Country

Afternoons always found the cross country team deep in Oak Grove Park. The pack usually started off quickly, jostling for the lead. Their trail led them up rises, past a dismal swamp, and over the many obstacles left by the equine population. They sweat and strain to develop physical endurance. They fight fatigue and stress to master a protesting will. The men of the cross country team, although only fourteen strong, were able to capture 3rd place in tough league competition.

MORGAN HAS ARRIVED

by BILL WALKER

"That's the one I wanted!"

The intense young basketball coach was still flushed from the largest victory of his life. Jim Morgan is an intensive young man.

He is aware of the comparisons that have been made relative to his own coaching ability and that of the man he replaced at St. Francis, Mission's Carl Boldt.

Morgan only had one starter, Pat Curran, who remained from the Mike Newlin-Robb Morgan CIF contention. Morgan's tallest starter was 6-3 Bob Vilven.

Moreover, Morgan, a small man undertaking his first varsity assignment, failed to present the same awesome figure to his charges as that of Boldt, 6-5 famed USF star.

The Knights predictably muddled through an early going, learning a new offense and becoming acquainted with their new boss, a basketball scholar who accented all-out practices and the value of conditioning.

Included among the Knights' five league losses was a 70-54 drubbing from Boldt's club dealt out at San Gabriel High.

Without consideration of opposing players' relative skills or the numerous other factors that weight in the winning and losing of games, the whispers began: Morgan was out-coached.

So be it, but under that premise the pair must now be rated even.

Morgan, in a daring maneuver, challenged Mission one Tuesday night with a 2-1-2 zone defense, and as a result pulled off one of the larger upsets of the Santa Fe League campaign, 79-69.

Included in the joyous crush that surrounded Morgan and rode him off the court on their shoulders as the game ended were all his Knights. If any doubts persisted, this was the striking testimonial to his complete acceptance.

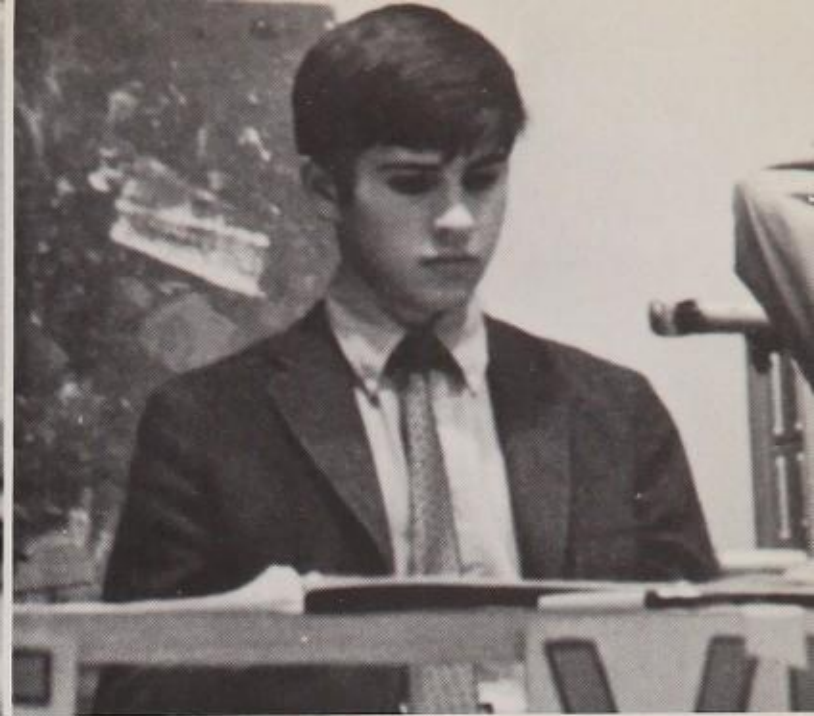

He had not only arranged a winning game but had gotten players sky-high for a contest that had no significance for them in the league standings. St. Francis had little hope of advancing past third place by the season's end.

The record speaks for itself. The St. Francis cagers, playing smoothly with confidence and desire and with the spirit that has always been SF's, closed the season with a flourish.

Unquestionably, Jim Morgan has arrived!

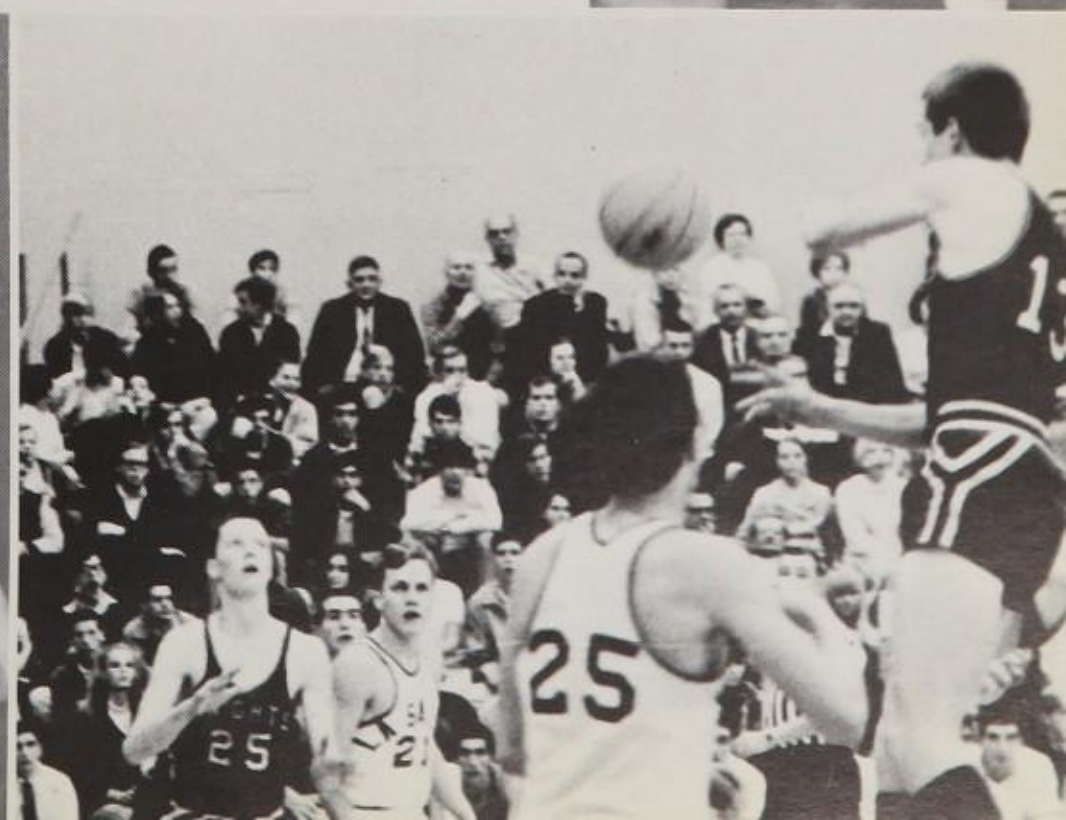

JIM MORGAN HAS ARRIVED.

SF's Record Holders

The St. Francis Knights at the time this article went to press held eleven league records. Three senior trackmen hold such honors at the present time: Tim Curren, Jim Nuccio, and George Otto. Curren, SF's long distance man, holds the best time of 9:49.7 for the two mile; Nuccio ran a swift 800 with a time 1:57.6 in last year's league finals; and Otto vaulted to a height of 13'2" for the league record (he has since jumped 13'6" for a school record. Coach Tom Crandall is very proud of these cindermen's accomplishments which may have been broken since this article was written.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Without thanks, this annual would not be complete. We, the editors, wish to place thanks upon:

Fr. John Baptist for his help as moderator and for his helpful suggestions.

Fr. Cyril for his patience and monetary support.

Chris Noonan for his brilliant work on the sports section.

Dana Terndrup for his creative writing.

Basil Treppa for his exact statistics.

Mike Osbaldeston, Bruce Van Roy, and Pat Snyder for their fine art work; our Art-work was all our own.

Bob Wallen, Mike Cardone, and Jim Anderson for their excellent photographic skill.

Roberts Studio, Mr. and Mrs. Fitch, and Mr. Bill Duncan for their handling of the senior graduation pictures.

The American Yearbook Company and Mr. Will Loe for advice and honesty in business affairs.

Bob Priestersbach for his comments of Mr. Crandall! Jeff Sceranka for remodeling the Publications Room. Joe Sciarra for pushing the panic button near deadlines. John Gilmore for his witty comments.
